Property Description

At the end of a quiet street near Praia do Castelo, this renovated end-of-terrace house combines distinctive interiors with flexible guest accommodation. The property offers 224 m² of gross area on a 323 m² plot, with three bedrooms in total, including one within a basement apartment.A broad entrance terrace introduces the house. Inside, the ground-floor living and dining spaces feature fireplaces, stone walls and pillars, together with bespoke cherry-wood furniture. These details give the accommodation a more individual character than a conventional modern townhouse.The renovated kitchen includes contemporary appliances and a central island, with an outlook towards the exterior. Its position alongside the main living areas makes it a practical centre for everyday use and entertaining.Upstairs are two generous bedrooms and a bathroom. An internal staircase leads down to the basement, where an independent one-bedroom apartment includes an open kitchen. This provides useful flexibility for visiting guests or family members.The outdoor areas provide additional places to sit and spend time in the Algarve climate. Two further rooms are currently used for storage and a gym, extending the property's practical accommodation without being presented as additional bedrooms.The house has three bathrooms and an energy rating of C. Its location near Praia do Castelo brings the coast within easy reach, while the end-of-terrace position and varied accommodation give it a character of its own.
